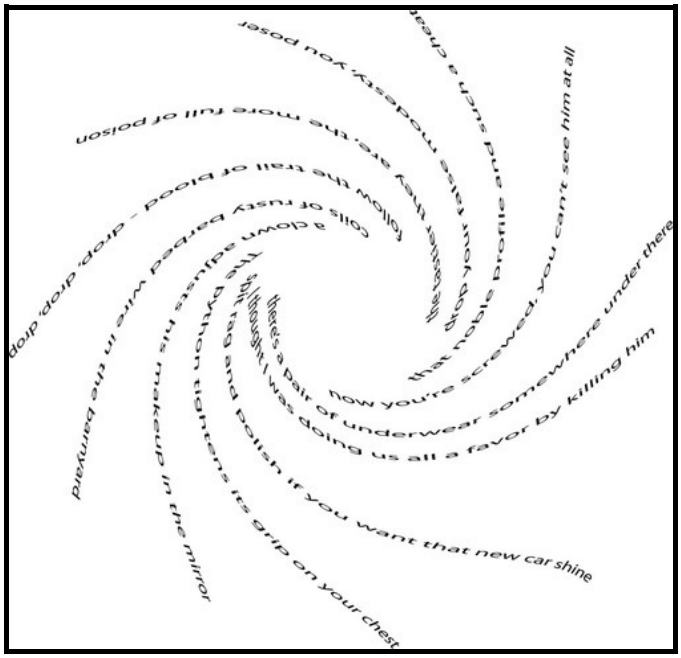
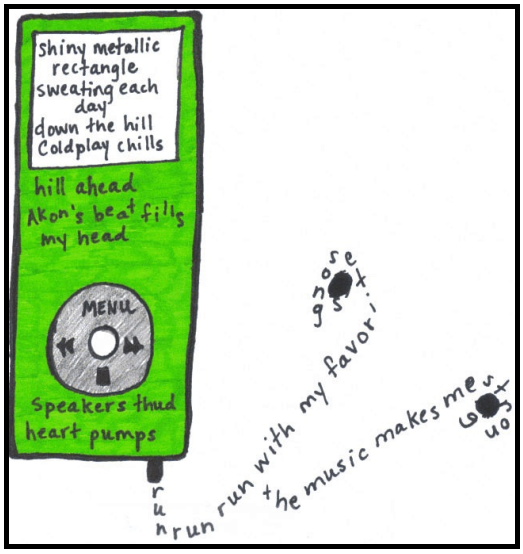
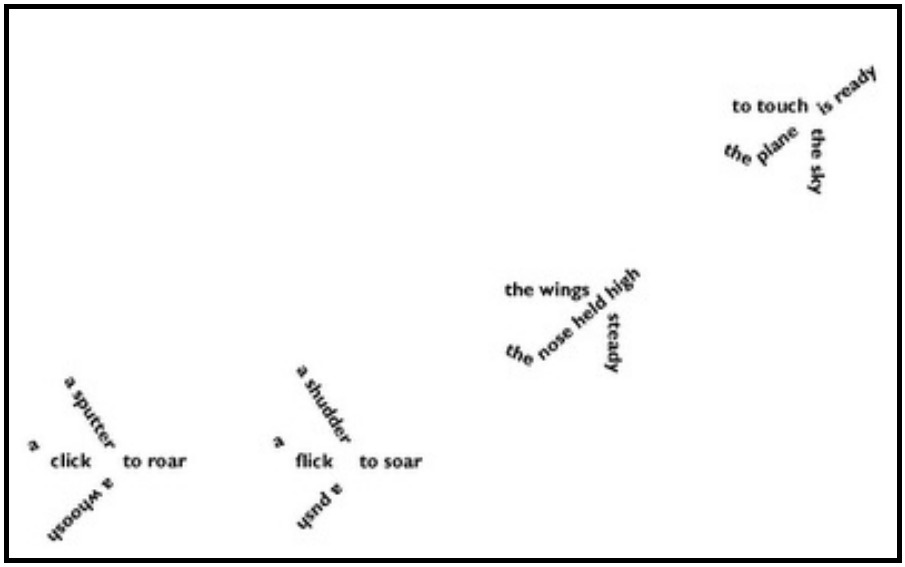
2200 Sketchbook Assignment #3: Using Writing: WORD ART

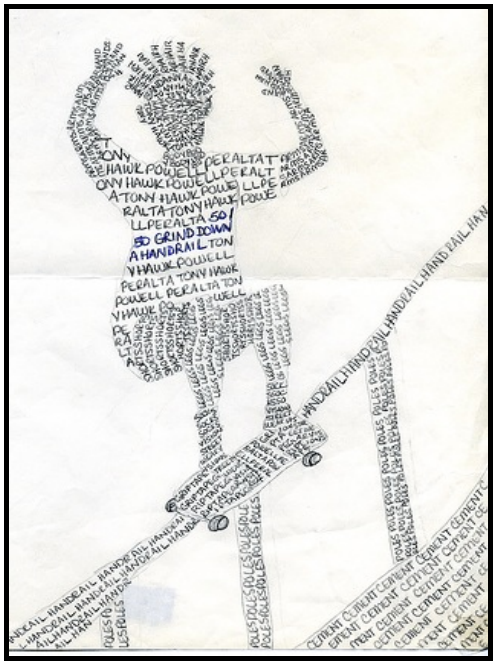
Another way to incorporate text into your sketchbook is by creating a picture with words. A concrete poem is a picture created by the shapes of words.

The words can make the outline of a shape or they can fill in the shape. You might want to make some quick sketches of your ideas.

The words can be completely original (a poem created by you) or you may choose a famous quote, song lyric or use a journal entry.








The shape that you create should reflect the words that make it up. Here are some examples:
