

Music at UPEI

Deadlines:

February 1, 2012 – Recommended deadline for applications

March 10, 2012 – Audition Day (For scholarship consideration)

March 24, 2012 – Audition Day (For scholarship consideration)

April 25, 2012 – Applicants to be informed of audition results

Late June, 2012 - Late audition day (date TBA)

August 15, 2012 – Deadline for full application documentation

Late August, 2012 – Late auditions (date TBA)

Why study music at UPEI?

- Small Classes
- Student mentors
- Well rounded program
- High performance standards
- Great location
- Rich in musical activities

Programs:

Bachelor of Music

- 4 years
- Music History, Performance, Theory/Composition
- For those pursuing careers as a performing artist, theorist/composer, or musicologist
- Years I and II are common to the Music Education program

Bachelor of Music Education

- 5 years
- Prepares you to teach music in elementary and secondary schools
- 15 credit hours in the Faculty of Education
- Completion of this degree qualifies the graduate for a PEI Teaching certificate 5
- Years I and II are common to the Music Education program

Bachelor of Arts (Music)

- 4 years
- For those who wish to study music in a more general Arts curriculum
- Prepare students for careers such as music librarian, in musicology, music publishing, communications media, and sound recording

Admissions

- $50 application fee
- Completed UPEI admission application (recommended deadline of Feb 1), and audition application
- Your music teacher's recommendation form (found online at music.upei.ca/process (Form #3))
- General admission requirements: 70% minimum cumulative: English, one language or social studies, 3 Gr 12 academic courses from any subject area)
- Music requirements: an audition on an instrument or voice, showing proficiency in performance, technique and sight reading at the grade 8 conservatory level.

Scholarships

For information visit: <http://studentservices.upei.ca/tuition-fees-scholarships>

Visit the GO to check out more information about UPEI's music auditions